

Certificate of Achievement Template

Managing hypertension – whether you’re a patient or provider, care team or site of care – can be a challenge. What better way to recognize those who have met their goals than by presenting them with a certificate of achievement or similar award on May 5?

A template for a certificate of achievement is included on the following page. The certificate has been designed to allow you to insert:

- Your organization’s logo
- Recipient’s name (using a text box)
